The British Advance.

London, Oct. 25. Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters, writing on Friday, says: Our First, Third and Fourth Armies are wearing down the enemy's resistance and we are now nearing the great Mormal Forest north of Landrecies. THE WESTERN SITUATION

On the Belgian Front.

Germans' Weakening Position.

London Oct. 28 Renter's correspondent at French Headquarters, writing on Friday evening, says: French infantry were near Villerle-See at middley and its fall is probable. Its loss may compel the enemy to fall back a considerable distance before renewing the battle on the Hunding Line. Von Hutier's position is weak because he is menaced in the rear by Generals Rawlinson's and Byng's offensive. A successful advance up the Sambre Valley must cause an instant retirement of the whole German line between the Oise and Reuter's correspondent at French Headquarters reports yesterday: General Debeney's Army, between the Oise and the Serre, is attacking General von Hutier's so-called Hermann position on a front of fifteen miles. The Gormans have converted the villages, generally situated on the crests of the ridges, into fortresses, and are resisting very bitterly, knowing that the safety of the German army facing General Gourand on the Aisne depends on the Hermann line holding. General Hutier has another chain of positions some miles in the rear, namely the western edge of the Hunding line. The Hermann defences are already penetrated at several points and with the entry to-day of General Mangin's, Tenth Army and General Guillaumat's Fifth Army in the region of Chateau Porcien, extending the battle-front forty miles, the enemy defence has been fought clean through, the Germans losing two thousand prisoners. The German resistance to General Debeney has appreciably weakened

A French communique states: Between the Oise and the Serre our attacks continued successfully. We further advanced north of Villers-le-Sec and captured a fortified centre, repulsing several counter-attacks and taking eight hundred prisoners. We crossed the Serre between Crecy and Mortieres and occupied the northern bank for a distance. of a kilometre. Furious fighting east of Souche River ended in our capturing the villages of Veslecanmont and Pierrepont, with 250 prisoners. There was a very violent all day battle between Sissone and Chateau Porcien. Supported by tanks we attacked this morning powerful defences and advanced on the left in the woods fringing the Sissone-Laselve road. Eastwards we stormed Petit St. Quentin and got a footing in the villages of Banogne and Recouvrance, while on the right we penetrated enemy positions. The German resistance everywhere was very desperate. We captured two thousand prisoners, nine guns and numerous machine-guns.

A wireless German official report states that French attacks on a front of fifty kilometres from the Oise to the Aime failed.

Violent Battle on American Front. London, Oct 26.

An American official message states: On the Verdun front on Friday evening the enemy extended to the west side of the Meuse his efforts to wrest from us the gains of the preceding days in the region of Bantheville. After half an hour's artillerying the enemy attacked our positions between Bois-des-Rappes and Bois-de-Bantheville but was repulsed with heavy losses, our line remaining everywhere unchanged. Northward of the Aire we are now established in positions on the southern portion of Bois-de-Bourgogne on both banks of the Meuse. Northward of Verdun the battle which is being bought by our First Army to day enters the second month and is continuing with incessant severity, frequently rising to extreme violence. On the entire front of 25 miles the enemy is offering determined resistance. We have prisonered on this front since Sept. 26 over 20,000 men and have taken over 150 guns, 1,000 trench mortars and several thousand machine-guns.

An American communique reports: The battle on the Verdun front continued very violently. East of the Meuse we occupied Bormont Wood last evening. The Germans today counter-attacked repeatedly between Bormont and Detraye Woods, but were repulsed with very heavy losses. Only at Bellu Wood the enemy's fifth attack forced us to withdraw from the eastern part of the wood. We advanced west of the Meuse north-west of Grandpre in the face of determined resistance" and entered Bourgoyne wood.

LIVELY REICHSTAG DEBATE.

Amsterdam, Oct. 28. In a lively debate in the Reichstag the Conservatives complained of over-hasty constitutional reforms and their non-representation in the Government. The Socialists declared that the reforms were inadequate. Vice Chancellor von Payer promised further reforms soon, but said it was impossible to transform the constitution all at once. A Danish Deputy demanded the right of self-determination for North Schleswig and the Poles wanted Dantzig included in new Poland. Herr Solf demurred at both of these demands.

TURKS V. GERMANS.

London, Oct. 25. Reliable news has reached London confirming the profound and growing unpopularity of the Germans with the Turks. There have been cases in Asia where Turks have stripped and flogged German soldiers. At Damacus many Germans had their throats cut and some only saved their lives by running into the British lines. Austrian soldiers are not included in these attacks.

Price of Clothes. Gone, never to return, are the obeap pre-war prices of clothes. That is the view of an expert writing in a British trade publication, and be predicts another rice soon. Every shot fired from a 12 inch gup, he says, uses up half a bale of cotton, and in three minutes a machine-gan will equander a full hale. The price of woollen cloth is from two and three-quarters to three times prester than it was in July 1914. Linen prices this year, it is stated probably will keep at least one third shove those of 1917.

Industrial Research The third report to the Research Department established by the Government to assist the scientito investigation of industrial problems state that the photographic, scientific instrument making, Portland cement, and woollen and worsted industries have alreads satablished research associations. and 30 other industries are preparing to do so. One of the most interesting developments during the year has been the appointment of an Industrial Fatigue Research Board to investigate the relations between hours of labour. conditions of employment, etc., and the production of fatigue. A Conscientious Objector's Plea

Before Suicide. Frank Lloyd Parton, who attained notoriety as a conscienting objector, committed raiside on Monday at his father's house at Charteey by taking cyanice of potassium. At the inquest recently a verdict of Eucide whilst of unsound mind was returned. Parton, who was a law student, served with the Friends' Ambulance "Corps in France in the early days of the war, but resigned on conscientions grounds. His appeal was dismissed by the courts and arrested as an absentee, he served six months' imprisonment for disobeying orders. Latterly he had been employed sa a forester under the Home Office scheme. "His views are not mine," said the father in giving svidence. Long before the war his son held the belief that no man had a right to take another's life. Becently Parton confessed that he was doubtful as to the balance of his A Corruption Charge.

A curious charge was heard at the Mansion House recently, when Hyman Bernfield, 25, violiziet, and John Jaffe, 27, clerk, were secured of conspiring to obtain money as inducement for showing favour in the discharge of their duties at the Jewish War Services Committee, which forms part of the organisation of the City and District Headquarters of the Ministry of National Service. One of the committee's duties is to find work of national importance for Jewish sliens-mostly Russian tailorswho have been exempted from military service. The defendante are clerks to that committee, and it was alleged they told an applicant that if he paid them $100 they would be able to get him employment with a controlled firm, where he would be allowed to continue his present work asmanager of a clothing, factory. They-added that all they would get out of the £100 would be a suit of clothes each. Sir John Knill remanded them and refused Miss J. Beauchamp's Secret.

At Bow-street recently Mies Josn Besuchsmp, of York Buildings, Adelphi, was fined $200. with 25 guiness costs, for publishing and dispersing copies, of the Tribunal, in contravention of the Newspaper and Printers Act. Sir A. Bodkin said that copies for four weeks in July contained the imprint "Printed by J. Besuchamp, of Chalk Pit Cottage. Norbury Park, near Dorking," but the defendant declined to give the name of the scinal printer. It was a case of absolute defiance of the statute. For some reason this publication. was printed secretly by someone. For the defence it was urged that it was not illegal to have a secret press in this country, whatever might be the case in Beelin. GENERAL NEWS.

Dearth of Skilled Labour. The development of industries has led to a dearth of skilled Isbour, and there has been keen sempetition smong factory owners to entice workers from one place to another, causing much inconvenience to employers, says the Japan Chronide. As a recalt the Nara Prefectoral authorities have prohibited the "taking away" of men from the prefectore, and Wakayama Prefecture has also proclaimed a similar prohibition. The question of obtaining labour is ci even greater importance in Hyogo Prefecture, but far from adopting similar messures it is reported the Prefectural authorities contemplate memorialising the Government, urging the necessity of abolishing the explusionist policy adopted by Nara and Wakayama prefectures, from the point of view of promoting the industries of the country as a whole. It is difficult to see how the Nara and Wakayama authorities can "conserve" their industrial populations, for while the enticing away may be prohibited, voluntary departure for fresh fields and factories new cannot be prevented without restricting the liberty of the subject. Indian Plague.

The statistical abstract for British India publiched as a Parlismentary Paper recently brings the record down to 1915 16. I shows that the plague is still responsible for a terrible death-In British India in 1915 there were 380:501 deaths from plague and 53,365 in the Native Provinces, being an increase of 137,000 on the previous year. In the 20 years ended 1915 there were 7.557.313 plague deaths in British India and 1,425,043 in the Native States, bringing the total up to 8,952,356. In 1915 there were 92,433 lepers in India-69,190 males and 23,243 females. In British India the executions in that year numbered 537. For the whole of India the number of widowed males is given as -8.709.755 and of females 26,421,262. For females this is equivalent to 23 widows for every 73 married women. The proportion of widows is very high amonget Christians as well as smonget non-Christians, the number of married women Christians teing 787.336 and widows -220,610. There a curious item under the heading of "Occupations" with the sub-title "Unproductive." This shows that "inmates of gaols, asylums, and hospitals" number 124,563 (117,273 males and 7 290 females), and that beggars, vagrents, and prostitutes number 1 946 831 (1,178,337 males and 768,494 femsles). In 1915-16 the number of sores under opium in October 16th, 1918. British India was 182 030 compered with 614,879 scree i 1905-7.

SHIPPING NEWS.

No Insurance for Faulty Ships. There have been loud complaints regarding the efficiency of vessels built at many of those yards in Japan which have sprung up since the shipping boom set in. Complaints are part cularly loud in regard to wooden vessels of about 1,000 tens, and there have been frequent accidents to such ships of late. It is reported that insurance companies have decided not to31st Oct. at moon, accept any risk on these vessels. Shipbuilding: Increased Output.

With the growing development of the carrying trade there has been increased activity in the shipbuilding industry of this country, says the "Japan Chronicle." The vessels of over 1.000 tons launched during the first six months of this year numbered 65 totalling 193,417 tons as compared with 29 vessels of 113,3:8 tons launched in the corresponding period of last year. and with 18 launchings, aggregating 81,572 tons, in that of 1916. According to particulars registered at the Department of Communications, these were the following launchings between January and June last :-

No. Tonnage 11 652 January February March April — Мау 14 45.641 June

(The reason that particulars do not tally with the figures previously given is that there are some steamers which either have not yet been formally registered at the Department of Communications or have been sold abroard.) No definite figures are available regarding vessels of under 1,000 tons, but it is believed that there has also been a considerable increase in launchings. As to shipbuilding during the remainder of this year, much depends upon the supply of materials. Assuming there will be no very serious shortage of supplies, it is estimated that launchings in the second half of this year will amount to about 200,000 tons, so that the vessels built during this year will amount to some 400,000 tons. In addition. the year will see the launching of vessels under 1,000 tons aggregating about 100,000 tons. so that the total annual launchings will amount to about : 00.000 tons. This year's estimated total of vessels of over 1,000 tons shows a marked increase over the preceding years, for in 1917 such launchings totalled 320.000 tons, and 140,000 tons in 1916. while before the war the sinual launchings amounted to no more than 50,000 tons. "It will be seen that this year's launchings are approximately eight times the pre war figures.

Japanese Vessels to France.

Following the decision of the French Government to requisition half the space on foreign vessels touching to French ports, there have been persistent rumours that Japanese steamers on the French run would be withdrawn, says the "Japan Chronicle." As far as Japanese vessels are concerned, requisition of tonnage has been carried out in regard to those which maintain a service between Japan and France with tran hipment at Bombay, and though there has been no increase the number of Japazese vessels trading between Bmbay and France, an increased number

France. In November the Dairenmaru, Itsukushima maru and the Mansei mare, of the Kuhara Company, and the Atsuta maru and the Nippo-maru, of the Taiyo Kaiun Kaisha will be placed on this service, while the Osaka Shosen Kassa will dispatch the Bushu maru and the Nanking maru, also girect from Japan to Marseilles. There will also be a Robert Dollar steamer placed on this run, so that nine vessels will be operating on the Japan France line from next month. In view of the reduced demand for tonnage for the Pacific trade, it is expected that the Japaness companies will maintain an increased number of vessels. between Japan and France. The question as to how the French Government will real with these steamers, however, is attracting close attention in shipping circles. It was reported that the Japanese Government had approached the French Government with regard to the requisitioning of Japanese ressels by France, and it is considered not improbable that an agreement than / moute been

Armistice beliberations. Washington, Oct. 25

Colonel House, personal representative of the President, and Admiral Benson, Chief of Naval Operations have arrived in Paris and will represent the United States in the armisuce deliberations, Attempt to Misiend aines.

Prince Max of Baden tried in his speech in the Beichstag to contuse the right and wrong of the war. This new democratic Government is not a reality but a serious attempt to try to mislead opinion among the Allies. The other object is to stir up the spirit of defence among the German people_

The German reply will stir American scorn and is strengthening the unanimous demand in the United States for unconditional surrender. The German popular Government made overnight is a mere travesty and transparent hypocrisy. Germany is beaten and is scheming to gain ume. It is a mixture of cymcism, of roguery and stupidity. The armistice must be reterred to Larshai Focia. To compromise with Germany would be betrayal.

Mr. Balfour, speaking at London at the Australian and New Zealand Luncheon Clab, referring to the German colonies said it would be inconsistent with the salety of the British Empire if they were returned to Germany.

Lucre was a brilliant reception in nonour of the British Navy and Army at the Paris Cercle Inter-Ame. Those present included M. Poincare. Al. Deschanel pair an ilquent tribute to British co-operation on land and sea. Lord Derby said they were Allies to-day in war and would be Alues in peace.—Havas

Copenhagen, Oct. 25 In the Beichstag, Dr. Soul declared that the Danish demand for a plesiscite in North Scaleswig was not justified. The War Minister declared that the army was unbeaten and still able to resist stubbornly. The situation was grave but not desperate; The German press is not satisfied with Fresident Wilson's note, but says that anyhow it means progress towards peace.

London, Oct. 25. Lord Robert Coul, speaking at the International Association of Journalists, said the peace semeved must be such as to perpetuate and increase the friendship prevailing between the present Allies. The war had brought nothing we valued more than the increase of Anglo-American friend-

SCATHING INDICIMENT OF GERMANS.

The Lord Chancemer, Lord r may, speaking at an Inter-Adied Parnamentary Comfittee dinner in tall Boyan Callery at the fromse of Lords, said that iffeigrain not omy resisted the German armies but the insidious margues of the German Covernment. German was methods had been so cold, eal-Ediating and bruta: in their excesses as to provide a novelty in the world's instory. The Lord Chancemor pilloried the deportation of women-took from this as a crane, calling upon Heaven for vengeance. Summarine commanders were awarded from Crosses for sinking passenger vessels. The Iron Cross was the badge of miamy. (Cheers). German practices had been inexcusable. Everyone left that those responsible therefor must be Genit with sternly; but the most painful outrage was the illuscatment of prisoners. Itwas horrible, to think that prisoners at that moment were being stafved and subjected to every outrage that the cruelty of their captors could devise. Punishment of these offenders was necessary in order to vindicate international morality. Another Allied object was reparation. We demanded it in the earliest days of the war, even when the sky was darkest. We demanded it now when we had reason to believe we were on the "road to victory. Reparation, however, was impossible in many cases. The murdered could not be restored to their families, outraged honour could not be made good, the agony of father or mother could not be relieved by any indemnity; but the wanton material damage in France and Belgiam must be repaired. Every vessel submarined ought to be replaced. We could not allow Germany at the end of the war to start with the mivantage of having her merchant service intact. The Germans must be prevented from . reaping from their sea outrages the advantage they hoped to gain. The German people, who had identified themselves with their Government, must be taught that militarism did not pay. The German people exulted in the initial successes of the war and gloated over the foullest outrages, They must now be taught that war was a gigantic crime. Germany was responsible for what was done by the Kaiser. The people had never effectually dissociated themselves from his acts. They glorified in his success and condoned his misdeeds Therefore unmistakable defeat should be inflicted.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

The Murder of Mr. and Mrs. Gumpert.

One of the most ghastly crimes Tientsin was perpetuated during Commander C. Book-

the bunches placed on the wall by Military Government. the murderer, and that the office probability is that the assailant attacking Fukien. came to steal, was disturbed in his task of stesling the valuables, and in a panicky and violence which is the measure of his panic. An extraordinary fact frenzy absted with the death of his victims is that he actually washed his hands after fiendish crime in a wash basin in one of the rooms.

There is an element of mystery in the affair which it is difficult mester. He looked at the clock to solve. The servants affirm that that doors were all locked, and the keys left in the doors, at about 10 o'clock. Captain Oldham made a very careful examination of the premises yesterday morning and could find no trace of how the murderer obtained an entry. Exit was evidently made through the front door, which was found wide open, and it was here that the chopper with which the double crime was committed was discovered the next morning. theories are tenable. The mur deret may have managed to secrete himself in the house before the doors were looked, or the servants lie when they declare that the doors were all locked.
